

The Centre for Anabaptist Studies

The Anabaptist vision is inspiring Christians from many traditions on the cusp of post-Christendom. It offers fresh insights on peace and justice, faith and politics, hospitality and community, church and mission, discipleship and biblical interpretation.

The work of the Centre will include:

- Public lectures and other events in Bristol
- Webinars accessible from anywhere in the world
- MA modules on Anabaptism
- Supervision of postgraduate research
- Book launches
- Visits from overseas Anabaptist scholars
- Projects in partnership with others

MA modules

The Centre will offer three MA modules: Anabaptist origins and distinctives, Anabaptist ecclesiology and missiology, and Anabaptist ethics and hermeneutics.

Research Supervision

Bristol Baptist College offers postgraduate research supervision (MPhil, MLitt and PhD). The director and associates of the Centre will offer supervision of research topics related to the Anabaptist tradition.

Webinars

The Centre will offer six or more webinars (web-based seminars) during each academic year. These webinars are free and can be accessed via a home computer. They will last between 60 and 90 minutes and there will be a mix of presentation and interaction. The webinars will all be recorded and so can be watched subsequently.

Mennonite Trust library

The collection of books, journals and other material previously housed at the London Mennonite Centre has been donated to Bristol Baptist College and from October 2014 will be housed in the College library. This is the most extensive collection in the UK of resources relating to the Anabaptist and Mennonite traditions.

Anyone interested in consulting this collection should write to the librarian, Michael Brealey, Bristol Baptist College, The Promenade, Clifton Down, Bristol BS8 3NJ, or email library@bristol-baptist.ac.uk

Bristol Baptist College has partnered with the Anabaptist Network and the Mennonite Trust to launch the Centre for Anabaptist Studies.
